

Abstract

A data storage medium (1) having an optical information carrier comprises a spiral-wound polymer film (30). The central area of the data storage medium (1) is provided with a recess (36) whose periphery (37) is formed by the innermost winding (38) of the polymer film (30).

(Figure 3)

10030474-022002